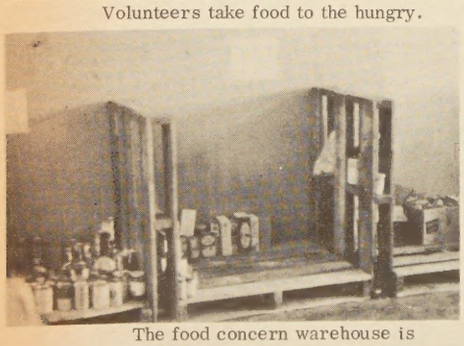
Food Situation Getting Desperate

Volunteers take food to the hungry.



The food concern warehouse is nearly empty.

The drive did publicize the fact that food was available at several distribution points in the city and county (listed elsewhere in this week's FACTS), however, and the demand has skyrocked. As Ronald Rouisse at the Central Area Food Bank (near St. Leo's, at 1423 S. Yakima Ave.) said, "We've serviced about three hundred families -- over a thousand persons who really need food -- in two and a half days. Our stores are just about exhausted."

Rouisse and his fellow volunteers have had to close down the Food Bank a number of times during the week when the food ran out.

"It's what we hate to do most," one young volunteer rxpressed. "We know there are still so many hungry out there and the food is just gone."

At the St. Leo Food Bank, despite the desperate situation, the atmosphere is cheerful and generous, although evidence of weariness and concern are evident among the volunteers. The food is so scarce, they explained, that although no one who is obviously hungry is turned away when there is food available, attempts are made to make certain those seeking food really do need it.

Because of the continuing need for food, fire stations in the city will continue to accept any donations of non-perishable food. The food is then taken to the Food Concern warehouse and from there to any of thirteen food banks in the city or county.

The nearly empty cupboards at the Food Concern warehouse, 1125 Market St., added the pitiful footnote to the previous weekend's county and citywide food drive: While a lot of food was collected, it was in no way up to meeting the persistent demand. Only a few days operation has just about wiped out what gains the drive had made.

When Food Concern director Phil Kaplan spoke to Tacoma FACTS reporters at the warehouse Wednesday, he expressed a belief that a second drive with perhaps more publicity to drive home the urgent need for food donations would secceed better than the first drive. "It was our first drive," he said, "And perhaps not enough people who were prepared to help knew about it."

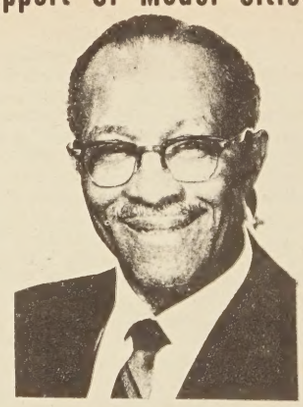
Rev. Brazill Calls For Support Of Model Cities



The Rev. E. S. Brazill, Chairman of the Model Cities Advisory Board, has called for community-wide support. His statement follows:

"The Model Cities program is a demonstration of what a Model City Should be like when people of all walks of life come together for a common cause. The goal of Model Cities is to get full participation of all the citizens of the Model Cities area on one of the task forces. As of now, we do not have that kind of participation.

"The members of the Executive Board are working hard and putting in long hours to help make the program a success. We need the backing of the Community."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the staff of Central Employment Agency (CEA) and myself, I write this letter.

THE TIME

My beloved Brothers and Sisters, once again I would like to take a few minutes of your time to relay onto you a message of great importance. I wish to accept no credit for the devine wisdom I am exhibiting forth in my articles, because before I studied under the Honorable Elijah Muhammad; "I was blind, deaf, and dumb.: (St. Luke 15)

We the followers of the messenger of almighty God Allah forever thank him for raising up our devine leader, teacher and guide, the most Honorable Elijah Muhammad.

The subject that I am writing about today is of such great importance, that you my Brother and Sister, after reading should flock to your local Mosque to get a better understanding of the devine teachings which flows freely from the mouth of God's last messenger, the most Honorable Elijah Muhammad. The Honorable Elijah Muhammad teaches us that we are living in a time of great danger. We the so-called American Negroes, are the bibles' lost sheep, the Prodial Son, and that lazy Lazarus in the scriptures who was so charmed over the rich man's wealth, that he didn't desire to do for himself. The rich man put him in a disgraceful condition and even sent his dogs to attack him. Do all this ring a bell in your minds Brothers and Sisters? The Messenger loves his people so much that he works night and day trying to wake up our people's mind, to go and do something for self. The day has come that we are being forced to do for self. The day has come that we are being forced to do for self. We must unite among our self and kind and become producers as well as consumers on some of this earth (heaven) that we can call our own. For over 40 years the Honorable Elijah Muhammad has been saying that he is the Messenger of Allah (God), the seal of the prhphets, that lamb of revelations, that comforter that Jesus spoke about, that Elijah of Malaihi, and "that one like unto Moses." The wise ones will first check it out. A wise person knows that no one could long wear such shoes without leaving a false footprint somewhere if he were not that one to whom the shoes belonged.

DAN LAZARE RETIRES

DAN LAZARE

COMMUNITY 'S YOUNG LOSE FRIEND

Daniel R. Lazare ended a 30-year career in the Tacoma school system Thursday, a career aimed mainly at helping youths on their way toward dropping out of school to stay in.

Lazare was in charge of developing special programs for young people who, for a variety of reasons, simply weren't doing well in school.

In some programs, the youths went to only certain classes and worked the rest of the time. Lazare arranged to find places for them in businesses which might afford them valuable on-the-spot training.

His main concern, however, was with the youths themselves. Often from broken homes, these young people faced more than the usual difficulties of adolescence.

Too often they found school simply unresponsive to their needs.

That's where Dan Lazare stepped in.

Back in May the Tacoma FACTS featured Dan Lazare and his work in an articla entitled, "Keeping The Drop-Outs In." We noted that Lazare's Community Lab had at that time over 500 young people enrolled.

The total number of youths that Dan Lazare has helped probably exceeds that number many times.

They will remember the tall, craggy-faced man whose ancestors came to America from the Da matian coast, the man with the tiny cigars and the large heart.

Smelter Strike May Soon Be Over

A good possibility exists that the Tacoma Smelter strike may be over sometime this week. The strike has idled close to a thousand workers for over seven weeks. Many of the workers and their families have faced hardship during this period and have had to apply for public assistance.

The new agreement calls for a 93 cent hourly pay increase over a period of three years. This would raise smelter worker's pay to $4.12 an hour.

While the main body of smeltermen, represented by the United Steelworkers of America were reported close to acceptance of management's offer, the situation was complicated by the fact that a number of Smelter office and laboratory people, represented by Teamsters' Union 461, were separately on strike against the company. Their strike may likely be settled this week also, however. Until it is, the main body of workers will not resume their work.

TACOMA FACTS PROCLAIMS CITYWIDE EMERGENCY!

As a weekly Community Service Newspaper expressing the needs and thinking of our community, and responsible to that community, the Tacoma FACTS cannot remain silent on the most basic fact in Tacoma today, and that is that many of our fellow citizens here today are hungry and malnourished.

Our Food Banks are almost exhausted. There is no food for these people.

Federal and state aid are mired in red-tape or non-existent.

In view of this, we cannot continue on a "business-as-usual" basis.

Our leaders and other officials may not have declared it, but we think the facts do: there is a moral emergency in Tacoma as long as hundreds are going hungry.

Hunger is man's oldest enemy. Now it is reappearing in our city. Everyone must be involved in the fight against it!

The FACTS calls on all of our citizens to respond. Food must be collected immediately and taken to firestations or to the food banks.

We call on Sens. Jackson and Magnuson, Rep. Hick, Governor Evans, Mayor Johnston, City Manager Donaldson, City Council members and candidates to do what they must and to do it now. All together, we can eradicate hunger in Tacoma overnight.

In succeeding issues, the FACTS will prominently note just who is helping -- and who isn't.

We think this has absolute priority over every other proglem that may face this city.

Until hunger is wiped out in Tacoma, none of us can take pride in any other accomplishment.

Dostoyevski pointed out that it would be unjust to erect a perfect universe over the agonies of one child.

Hunger not only agonizes children but impairs them mentally and intellectually for life.

Let us therefore do what we can as well as we can, and do what we must, here and now. The challenge is clear.

Tacoma's emergency continues until no one suffers from hunger here.

TV Personality Accused

Bob White, president of the CITIZENS POLITICAL INTEREST CLUB, speaking before the club, accused TV personality, Bob Corcoran and his handpicked stoogie from the Hilltop area, of trying to destroy the black community.

Mr. White accused Mr. Corcoran and his aide of trying to destroy confidence in black people, by accusing the black leaders of embezzlement, distortion and everything that he could think of.

The thing that Mr. Corcoran is trying to do this time is not going to work.

The black people are not going to throw anymore bricks, they are not going to burn or loot anymore stores, because we have replaced burning with learning.

We will replace throwing bricks with throwing together programs to teach the Blacks and other minorities that the brick days are over and we will replace the lack of confidence with confidence, and the things of which Mr. Corcoran has accused our leaders.

Most black people don't believe the things of which this Mr. Corcoran has accused our leaders.

It is not true, and, as a matter of fact, it is a down right lie.

In every community program that the black community has ever had, some of our good white brothers have always managed to find some way to attack the program and its administrators.

It is time now for all citizens of this community to take action against this cruel and unjust acquisition that people like Mr. Corcoran tries to use handpicked, weak-minded Blacks to attack our community program.

Bob said that he would like for more people of this city to be the judge on this so-called outstanding black man.

We would like for you too, you the citizen, to look at the credability of that outstanding citizen; a man who has been involved in every major program in the city and has been a failure in all of them, but yet he has accused black leaders of mustrust.

I hope that both blacks and whites will stand together on the issues and there is not doubt in my mind what the answers will be.

I can find many faults in all of the poverty programs in the State of Washington, but I can also find fault in the system which calls a great country, Like-America, to have to have poverty programs; so I think that we all know that there are things in all programs could be commended; and Bob White said that this Grand Jury that Mr. Corcoran was speaking of would by more than welcomedby the average citizen in the community and its leaders.

Bob said that he would like to see himself, a grand jury, he said for if there was one, Mr. Corcoran might not have his outstanding citizen.

Bob said that he is not accusing anyone, that he will let the public be the judge of that.

E. B. Detton

CITIZENS'S POLITICAL INTEREST CLUB

Q. How will rent ceilings be determined for houses or apartments that have not been rented before?
A. Standards should be the prevailing rents for comparable units in the immediate area.

Q. How about new products?
A. They should be priced according to the most nearly comparable product sold by the closest comparable competitor.

Q. Are previously announced increases in tuition rates for the 1971-72 school year permitted by the freeze?
A. Yes. These are considered transaction prices.

'Purdy Fashion Show!'

Some 20 members from the Unemployed Worker's Association presented a fashion show for the inmates of Purdy's Women Correction Center Saturday night.

The show was coordinated by Miss Corzettee Bradley, with the help of 12 models. 6 men's & 6 women's, in which on e inmate coming from the center was involved.

The theme of the show was focused around the horescope signs, presenting our theme title for us, called "Zodiac in Fashion."

The models included: Mr. Edward Bradley, Mr. Alphonse Bradley, Mr. Victor Rosa, Mr. Bennie McGee, Mr. Johnnie Goodman, Mr. Larry Owens, Miss Sophia Gentry, Miss Kathleen Baseden, Miss Mary Marshall, Miss Shelia Crittendon, Miss Vicky Williams, (and) Miss Linda Valion.

Models were dressed in clothing representing each sign in which they took part of.

Clothes were sponsored by Foreman & Clark, and Bernie's for the men, and Richardson's for the women.

Shoes were also sponsored by Allen's and Florsheim Shoe Shops. All stores are located in the Tacoma Mall, Tacoma, Washington.

This show was an effort to assist the inmates of Purdy to see the latest styles of fashions for both men and women.

To help bring about a better communication style between the community and the institutions.

Let The Facts Speak:

HUNGER IN TACOMA

As we pointed out two weeks ago, prior to the August 13-15 countywide food drive, hunger is a fact in Tacoma, an ugly fact in view of our basically affluent society, but a stubborn fact that refuses to go away.

Certainly the hundreds of families who suffer from hunger, the thousands of Tacomans, old and young, black and white, who know the gnawing feeling in empty stomachs can't forget it.

And we can't forget them.

Before anything else, before school or work or travel a person must be fed. This is nature's basic law.

Now the food drive is over. Certainly all of those who gave are to be thanked. We can only presume that those who didn't simply didn't realize how desperate is the plight of some of their fellow citizens.

The drive was successful to a degree, but did not come close to expectations. The end result is that many of our food banks can only open a few hours on certain days.

There just isn't any food to give to the hungry.

At the Hilltop Community Food Bank, at 1423 S. Yakima, the doors could be open only two and a half days last week. During that time, however, an astounding number were helped -- over a thousand, in fact. But, as Ron Rouisse, the man in charge of the food bank told us, many more simply, could not be helped. There was no more food.

To compound Ron Rouisse's problems, many of his volunteers will be returning to school next week, and he will be dangerously understaffed. Call him at Br 2-2398 if there is anything you can do, if only for a few hours a day.

We at the Tacoma FACTS have made our position clear elsewhere in this paper, but in short it is simply that hunger in our society is a condition no civilized and humane man can tolerate.

Yet, it exists in Tacoma.

This is no time to pass the buck: the problem of hunger in Tacoma is everyone's problem, whether we are city or state or federal officials or just plain citizens. Everyone.

Hunger does not wait for anyone. It cripples bodies and it will cripple the minds of our young.

Let's have action NOW!

-- John Evans

Community Committee Meeting

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Marasco. First Mr. Marasco spoke on channels they have to go through to secure a building and how everything had to be approved by General Administration. He spoke on how last summer GA had looked for a Modular structure for Hilltop but they did not think this would work out.

Mr. Lewis from General Administration spoke on the fact that since there were no available buildings in the Hilltop boundary they had been given, they would have to have one built. Proposal - Building would cost $300,000.00 and the land from $75,000.00 to $150,000.00 making it a 450,000.00 thousand dollar package. Approval for this new building was received August 23, 1971. Prospective date for this new building if everything clears all channels is March, 1972, or sooner.

Mrs. Semenza gave her approval that the Hilltop's present Department of Social and Health Service and staff could remain as it is until they receive their new building. At the present time, Hilltop has top priority and Mr. Maxwell will devote most of his time to the Hilltop problem.

Attending will be Corzette Bradley, William Middleton, Clarence Walker, Rev. J. A. Boles, Will Lewis, Grace Semenza, Robert Pittman, Ted Maxwell, Clarence Pettit, Frank Marasco, Gerald Thomas, Lawrence Knape, Hilltop Local Office Staff and the Hilltop Community.

Judge Wilkens, Governor Wallace, & President Nixon In 'Same Bag'

As a southern governor standing in the door-way, barring a black woman from entering a state university, Pres. Nixon is now standing in the door-way of every school in this nation, refusing free access to all minority children to equal educational opportunities.

We all know where Governor Wallace stands and we should respect his stance because he comes out and says he is against equal educational opportunities. -- We expect racism from him.

Judge William J. Wilkins of Seattle is standing in the door-way of schools in Seattle and holding up the desegregation plans the Seattle School Board has strived so hard to make.

SO LET'S TAKE A LOOK, A GOOD LOOK, AT THE OVERALL SCHOOL DESEGREGATION PLAN:

The supreme court ruled 17 years ago that segregated education is inherently unequal and prohibited by the constitution. The supreme court expressly recognizes the necessity of bussing as a cure for racial imballance. All concerned citizens should think about this: THE PRESIDENT HAS ANNOUNCED HE IS AGAINST BUSSING AND HAS INSTRUCTED FEDERAL AGENCIES TO HOLD BUSSING TO THE MINIMUM REQUIRED BY LAW OR STAFF CHANGES WILL RESULT.

HERE IS SOMETHING ELSE TO THINK ABOUT WHEN YOU GO TO VOTE IN 1972. Has President Nixon lived up to his solem oath when he took office to uphold the law of the land? His duty is to administer laws on an equal basis to all people.

NOTE: President Nixon has exceeded his presidential authority.

The White House statement of Aug. 3, 1971, states that the president will instruct the HEW and the department of Justices Offices that they are to work with individual school districts to hold bussing to the minimum, as a racist action which will result in intensified polarization. This is in direct opposition to the president's previous promise to bring America together.

All citizens should be concerned & fearful about the present and future of the minority people of this nation. How can we maintain faith in our government -- one nation, with liberty and justice for all, when the administration continually acts to destroy our faith -- and when a judge will make an injunction that will delay a school board's desegregation plan for years?

All citizens should strongly protest and condemn the position Judge Wilkins of Seattle and President Nixon have taken on the school desegregation issue. We want the best education possible for all children. We should further condemn any threats or acts of reprisal against any government employee as they work to inforce the law of the land.

In some way, concerned citizens should get the message to the judges, the governor, the senators, the congressmen, that they expect the president to abide by the law and reverse his present position. He must show that he cares about other children, and about peace and order in this nation by speaking out and acting strongly to support desegregation.

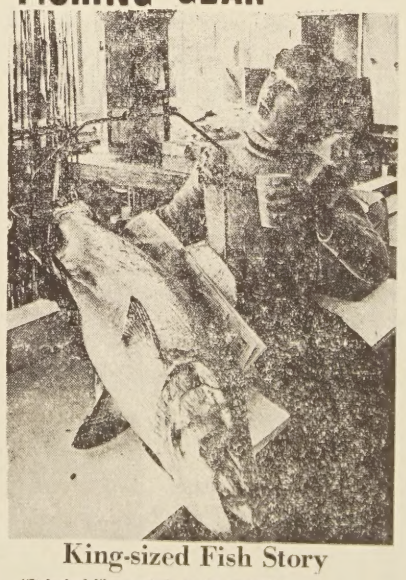
CAUGHT WITH THOMPSON'S FISHING GEAR



King-sized Fish Story

"It looked like a whale in the water!"

That's what 13 year-old Danny Jerowsky said after he landed his 48¼ pound King salmon Saturday morning.

Out at Point Defiance Boathouse, the comments ran like this:

"Now that is a fish!"

And, "I've been around here for 65 years, and that's one of the biggest fish that's ever come into this dock."

Danny hooked the fish from the family boat, off Pt. Dalco. He's the son of Capt. and Mrs. Donald Jerowsky, 8917 25th Ave. Ct. S. He was mooching with his line about two feet off the bottom.

He was out for the day with his dad. Danny said he reeled the big fish in after "he ran about six times."

For 79-pound Dan, who's in the ninth grade at Lochburn School, it was only the second fish he's ever caught.

The end of this real-life fish story is the remark made by an envious observer: "That makes the old-time fishermen around here look like pikers."

Tacoma School District's Early Childhood Education Program

Tacoma School District's early childhood education program, the Head Start and Follow Through programs, will be expanded again this school year, James Robertson, assistant administrator for elementary education, announced Monday.

Follow-Through, a program designed to assure that gains made in pre-kindergarten Head Start classes are not lost in regular school programs, will have nine second-grade classes added to the program this year, Robertson said.

The program started in Tacoma two years ago with a Kindergarten class of Head Start graduates. Last year that group continued into the first grade under the program and a new class of kindergarten students were enrolled. This year the original Follow-Through class will be in the second grade and the program will cover three grade levels and 540 students, Robertson, who coordinates the early childhood education programs for the district, said.

The program is designed to eventually serve Head Start students through the third grade.

The Follow-Through funds, more than $440,000 for the '71-'72 school year, come to the district through the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The program is administered by William E. Cassidy, project director.

The Head-Start program, a pre-kindergarten program for 4-year-olds, will continue this year with 16 classes plus three day-care centers for both 3 and 4-year-old children.

Follow-Through classes will be held this year at Lister, Hawthorne, Stanley, Jefferson, Wainwright and Roosevelt Elementary Schools. The Follow-Through program that was housed at Tayet, destroyed by fire earlier this month, will be moved to Roosevelt. All Follow-Through classes will start September 3rd except at Roosevelt where a modified schedule will be in effect until portable classrooms are installed. The first portable classrooms will start arriving September 3rd.

Starting next Tuesday, August 31st, Follow Through parents will have individual conferences with their child's teacher on the program. They will be notified by letter of the time and place for the conference.

The Head Start program, operated by the district through more than $400,000.00 of federal funds provided through Metropolitan Development Council (MDC), the community action agency running federal anti-poverty programs in Tacoma will also start next week. It is administered by Ernest Bretzel, project director.

There are still openings in the program and applications for regular Head Start classes and day care classes may be made at any elementary school in the district or at the district's Early Childhood Education office in the Central Administration Building, S. 8th Street and Tacoma Ave.

To be eligible, children must be four-years-old by September 10 and be from low-income families, as defined by federal regulations.

This year Head Start centers will be at Lister, Hawthorne, Stanley, McCarver, Edison, Roosevelt, Willard and McKinley Elementary Schools. The program that operated at Tayet School will be moved to Roosevelt School.

The district will also be operating one class in Sumner.

All Head Start classes this year will operate from 9:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Follow-Through classes will be held during normal kindergarten and elementary grade hours.

Head Start parents will also be invited to teacher conferences next week with classes scheduled to start September 3rd, except at Roosevelt where installation of portable classroom may result in several days delay.

Protest

White sports fishermen of the Committee to Save Our Fish staged a "fish-in" Sunday on the Puyallup to protest what they allege to be illegal net fishing by Indians. A sizable crowd variously estimated at over five hundred attend ed the demonstration which was held under the George Milroy Bridge on the Puyallup.

No law enforcement officials were on hand although Gov. Evans had assured Don Matheson Puyallup Tribal Chairman, that state troopers would be sent in if needed.

Evans and Matheson had met earlier in the week to discuss the recent ruling of the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) in Washington, D.C. to the effect that the Puyallup Indian reservation extends much farther than had previously been thought, including sizable portions of Tacoma, Puyallup, Milton, and all of Fife.

The BIA held that Indians cannot be regulated by the state from fishing as they choose in reservation waters.

The white sports fishermen were demonstrating in an area the BIA had declared is Puyallup reservation land.

Earlier, Matheson had sought federal assistance from U. S. Atty. Stan Pitkin in Seattle to enforce Indian fishing regulations. Pitkin declined, however, to send any agents during the white demonstration.

Members of the Committee to Save Our Fish have held two previous demonstrations. Indians claim that the group is a vigilante organization aimed at intimidating the Indians on their own land. The Indians allege that the Committee has been behind much of the harrassment Indians have faced as they attempted to exercise what they claim are their legal rights to fish the river according to tribal, not state, regulations.

Earlier in the week, U. S. District Court Judge George Boldt had refused a U. S. attorney's request for an injunction against the demonstration. Judge Boldt said that he could not deny the demonstrators the constitutionally quaranteed right to assemble peacefully. He asked the Committee's chairman, Ralph M. Thorpe Jr. to promise to do everything in his power to see that the sportsmen refrained from provoking the Indians.

FREE ANGELA

UNITED COMMITTEE TO FREE ANGELA DAVIS

The history of repression in our courts marchs on but with a new twist - four judged (the 4 that picked the names of the people to sit on the Grand Jury in Marin County) will be investigated. This hearing was apreed to after Howard Moore, Cheif Defense for Angela Davis, petitioned Judge Arnason. During the hearing it was discovered that one black was recommended to sit on the Grand Jury, but somehow his name wasn't picked. This was the Grand Jury that indicted Angela Davis.

Angela Davis is still in jail, awaiting her trial. Demands from all over the world have been sent to President Nixon, Governor Regan and the Superior Judges of Marin County Courts. Demands from unions the International Longshore and Warehousemen, the California Federation of Teachers and the 15,000 member Los Angelas Laborers Local #300, the Temple University has gone on record supporting Angela's defense. Local 1199, the powerful Hospital Union in N.Y.C. has involved the membership in getting petitions signed and has contributed money to the defense fund. A group of rank and file union leaders in Chicago have initiated a Labor Committee to Free Angela Davis. The National Bar Association has contributed $2,500.00 dollars to her defense fund as well as passing a resolution denouncing the "Repressive Grand Jury System" that indicted Angela. Over 1,000 people from Tacoma have signed the petition demanding that bail be set for Angela.

The petition demanding the freedom of Angela Davis contrasts the treatment of the imprisoned Black Women Communist with that of Lt. William Calley, the convicted murderer of 22 Vietnamese men, women and children who were put under "minimum security with a light guard" by presidential order while Angela is denied bail pending trial.

Just as the thousand people of Tacoma have recognized the outrageous inhumane treatment that Angela is undergoing, thousands more are needed. The petitions can be obtained at an "Open House" the Free Angela Comm. is giving on September 5, 1971, at 1311 "M" Street, (Tacoma Community Center) or a person from the committee that approaches you. At the benefit, you'll have a chance to learn, speak, and dance. If information concerning Angela is needed before then, contact the Tacoma United Committee to Free Angela Davis, at 1951 So. Yakima, meetings are held every Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Nixon Tearing Down Law, Wilkins Charges

NEW YORK -- "The President is indirectly responsible for tearing down the law of the land," NAACP executive director Roy Wilkins said this week after Nixon threatened to fire administration personnel who sought to impose busing upon children beyond the minimum required by law. "The personal attitude of the President . . . emboldened Governor George Wallace to order an Alabama school board to ignore a Federal court order," Wilkins said.

This forceful, direct language was contained in a telegram sent to the President after the Alabama governor ordered the Birmingham Board of Education to ignore a federal desegregation order and reassign a white girl to a school closer to home. In issuing his order, Wallace said that he was "assisting" the President.

Wallace threatened to issue additional orders along the same lines and said that they will involve entire schools rather than a single child.
